LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE.

Will Visit Normal Tomorrow Night—All Invited.

Tomorrow night there will be nn entertainment at the State Normal and Industrial College complimentary to the visiting educational committee from the Legislature. The general public is invited. There will be no charge for admission.

There will be about ten members of the committee. They will be at the University tomorrow. Our own members will be in the party. They will arrive at 6:30 tomorrow.

THE DANCE.

The Club Last Night Gave One of its Elegant Affairs.

Last night the Merchants and Manufacturers' Club gave one the delightful dances for which it is so well known. Promptly at 9:30, keeping time to the strains of lovely music furnished by Greensboro's splendid orchestra under the leadership of Prof. Chas. J. Brockman, the dancing began, and with short intermissions for rest, lasted till one this morning. The sensible rule which the club enforces of concluding its entertainment at this hour is deserving of praise and should be imitated by others of our social organizations.

The affairs given by the Club are essentially exclusive because they are limited to members of the Club and the ladies whom they invite. The attendance last night was as follows:

Miss Green, of Wilson and Mr. A. D. V. Smith; Miss Bessie Merrimon, Mr. T. S. Horry; Miss Lizzie Leigh Dick, Mr. Appleton Staples; Miss Marjorie Lyon, Mr. Howell Fry; Miss Satterwaite, Mr. Hornay; Miss Swift, Mr. W. D. McAdoo; Miss Geiter, Mr. Bradley; Miss Pearl Balsley, Mr. R. L. Carr: Miss Lizzie Balsley, Mr. P. D. Gold; Miss Smith, of Washington, D. C., and Mr. Richard DeButts; Mrs. W. H. Bishop, Mr. W. H. Bishop. Stags were Mr. W. T. Powe, Dr. C. L. Scott, Mr. Fleming, Mr. W. G. Mebane, Mr. T. W. Wade, Mr. Harry Sergeant, Mr. L. C. Howlett.

For distinctively enjoyable and recherche events the Merchants and Manufacturer's Club is noted beyond any social organization which Greensboro has ever had and the dance of last evening added another triumph to an already long list of social success.

Grip Knockers.

Mr. A. E. B. Alford, of this city, who is putting on the market "Grip Knockers," a highly efficacious prescription used with great success by a leading physician of this State, has issued a most unique invitation, especially timely. It is:

"Your are cordially invited to try a box of Grippe Knockers. They will positively cure any cold, or any case of La Grippe within ten hours. They are sure and safe; contain no calomel or opiates; do not nauseate or leave any bad effects. A child can take them. Don't be persuaded to take something said to be as good, for they have no equal on the market. All first-class dealers sell them. Price, 25 cents."

TO MEET AT HIGH POINT.

State Prohibition Workers Called for 20th—Sudden Death.

Special to The Telegram.

High Point, Feb. 6.—Last night James J. Hoskins, a farmer living at Fullers, Randolph county, died suddenly when only a mile from town, on his way home. He had hauled a load of wood to town and left after dark. He had been drinking and it seems became suddenly unconscions, dying with a fit in a few minutes. He leaves a wife and five children.

Mr. John W. Wilborn, who will be secretary of the meeting, informs me that the State Chairman of the Prohibition Executive Committee has called a meeting of the party Prohibition workers to be held here February 20, at 10 o'clock, a. m. The meeting is called for the purpose of mapping out the work to be done by the Prohibition party in this State in the next campaign.

POSTPONED TILL THURSDAY.

IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS OPPOSED BY JUDGE CONNOR.

Whitaker of Guilford, Also Opposes—Judge Connor Advocates a Compromise in the Nature of a Reprimand—Claimed That the Postponement Means Death to the Resolution.

The impeachment proceedings in the House against Justices Furches and Douglas has no doubt received their death blow. The action of the Committee is regarded as a point which indicates so much.

After discussing the report made by the sub-committee for four hours on Monday night, the committee adjourned to meet again yesterday afternoon and vote on its adoption. They met at the appointed hour (3 o'clock) and remained in session until 6, but no vote was reached, and an adjournment was taken until 3 o'clock tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon's meeting is reported by the correspondent of the Charlotte Observer as follows: "There was much speech-making. The principal speakers were Allen, Connor, Winston, Robinson, Spainhour, Green, Whitaker of Guilford, and Brittain. The discussion was whether there should be impeachment of Judges Furches and Douglas or whether something in the nature of a reprimand, spread upon the journals, should not be chosen. Connor strongly favored the latter course. No vote was taken and it was decided to adjourn until Thursday. If the vote had been for impeachment, a number of those who so recorded themselves would have demanded reconsideration and postponement. There are some directly opposed to impeachment, and a member of the committee says that there is no doubt that after deliberation, a number who now lean toward impeachmeant may vote against it. One of the committee made a stirring speech against any action at all, saying that it was a dangerous precedent, and added that if the impeachment idea was carried into effect it would strike one of the best judges in the State, as he had issued a mandamus for the payment of some claim expressly forbidden by the Legislature of 1897. He also cited a case many years ago in which the Supreme Court ordered the payment of the Governor's salary. The question was asked in the course of the discussion why the Supreme Court waited until after the Legislature was out of the way before it granted the mandamus in White's case.

"The telegram of Pritchard, Pearson and Linney to Justices Furches and Douglas, assailing the integrity of members of the Legislature, was also discussed and strongly denounced. It was the first time politics has been mentioned during the entire investigation by any member of the committee. The Republican members of the committee said this tonight. One of the committee, speaking in the meeting about that telegram, begged his fellow members of the committee not to permit it to goad them into unwise or precipitate action, but to look at it from the point of view that the telegram was written for that very purpose; in other words, that the Republican leaders really desire impeachment, intending to use it as a party lever.

"One of the speakers said that much as he doubted the policy of impeachment, yet under his oath, and with the report of the sub-committee before him, he would be compelled, even were one of the judges his father, to support the resolution for impeachment. Another said he did not propose to stand by the report of the sub-committee, as it was a mere rehash of Judge Clark's dissenting opinion. He added that if he stood by the sub-committee and its report, he would be certainly inconsistent if he failed to vote for impeachment. He declared he would file a minority report if no one but himself signed it. With him there could be no half-way ground under his oath.

"Discussion developed the fact that Winston had always favored impeachment. The open opponents of impeachment are Stubbs, Whitaker of Guilford, and Brittain. The apponents regard the adjournment as a victory and another member says that postponement to Thursday means the defeat of impeachment.

"It is fair to say that the committee is considering this matter in a very judicial frame of mind and manner and has risen to the dignity of the occasion, and persons on the ground cannot help realizing this. Some members are chafing under criticism which they consider unmerited, and they say they should not be held responsible for the vaporings of outside partisans.

"Republican and Democratic members from the ninth judicial district held another secret meeting to look into the matter of impeaching the solicitor there. They appointed a sub-committee of two Democrats and two Republicans to fully collate the evidence and report it."

Durham to Have Street Cars.

Is it possible that Durham is to have a street car line before Greensboro does? It looks that way. Over there they have orgnnized a company and say they expect to begin work in sixty days. A special to the News & Observer says:

"The Durham Traction Company has been incorporated by the General Assembly under the laws of North Carolina. It is capitalized at one million dollars. Its officers are:

"R. H. Wright, president; J. S. Carr, vice-president; J. S. Manning, secretary; J. S. Carr, Jr., treasurer.

"The following gentlemen compose the board of directors:

"Samuel Register, of Richmond, Va.; H. A. Foushee, J. S. Manning, R. H. Wright and Gen. J. S. Carr, of Durham. Manning and Foushee are the counsel. Col. A. B. Andrews is also interested in the company.

"The objects of the corporation are to build and operate a general street railway system from East to West Durham and from North Durham to the city cemetery In connection with this it will conduct an electric lighting and power plant, and also will engage in the manufacture of ice. A franchise has been obtained from the city and county of Durham for fifty years."

Fine Record at West Point.

Owing to the passage of the new army bill and the need for officers, the senior class at West Point will this year be graduated on the 18th of the present month instead of in June or July.

Greensboro is interested in this class, as one of our young men belongs to it. He is Mr. Clarence Sherrill, a brother-in-law of Mr. S. L. Alderman, of this city, and a son of State Librarian Sherrill. Mr. Sherrill will have the great distinction of graduating second in a class of 95. He lived in Greensboro with Mr. Alderman, and has many friends here. He was a student in the Greensboro graded schools, and afteward went to Trinty College for a short time. His position in his class is a very great honor indeed.

Mr. Sherrill is expected in Greensboro on the 22nd.

Bernice Castello.

For the entertainment of the Grand Lodge K. of P. in this city in April, Bernice Castello, the noted dramatic reader, impersonator and vocalist, will give a recitation under Pythian auspices, next Tuesday night. The reserved seats will be 50cts., gallery 25. Of Miss Castello, The New York Tribune says:

"Miss Bernice Castello made her first appearance before a New York audience at the Waldorf yesterday afternoon. She presented a picture of girlish loveliness as she stepped upon the platform, being petite and very fair, and with a simplicity of manners which charmed her hearers."

One Conversion.

The meeting at Centenary last night was full of interest. Nothwithstanding the cold weather there was a good and attentive congregation. The Rev. H. K Boyer preached a splendid sermon from Rev. 22: 17. After the sermon penitents were invited, and two came. One other requested the prayers of the Christians. One of the penitents was happily converted. There is the best of attention given to the preaching of the word.

If the weather will permit the prospects are good for a gracious revival service tonight.

THE SCHOOL BOOK BILL PASSED

BOOKS WILL BE ADOPTED FOR THE ENTIRE STATE.

A Warm Time in the Debate—Not Even Graded Schools are Exempt—Reception at the Mansion.

Special Dispatch to The Telegram.

Raleigh, Feb. 6 —Bills were introduced in the Senate today to provide a general stock law, to incorporate the Marion and North Western Railway, to provide for an issue of State bank notes, the treasurer to have plates prepared, to prevent imposition on clients by attorneys.

An invitation from Governor and Mrs. Aycock to attend a reception at the executive mansion Friday was accepted by a rising vote.

The bill passed restoring to the Governor the right to appoint directors of the Blind and Deaf Mute institutions.

In the House.

Speaker Moore introduced a bill to re-district the State, making ten districts, all of them Democratic.

A favorable report was made on the bill providing a permanent roll of voters.

The House devoted almost the entire session to the consideration of the special order school book bill. This is the Aycock Senate bill.

Representative Watts of Iredell offered an amendment excepting the Statesville graded school. Immediately other bills of like tenor were offered, and the debate waxed rather warm.

It was shown that this State paid much greater prices for books than some other States.

It was declared that there were as many lobbyists here favoring the bill as opposed to it.

All the amendments were lost and the bill passed its second and third readings exactly as it came from the Senate.

FEARFUL CONFLAGRATION.

The Flames spread to other depots with a capacity of twelve million poods of Naptha which poured out a stream of lava, inundating and setting fire to workmen and buildings, which were totally destroyed. Many perished. Twenty charred bodies have been found, and upwards of fifty were terribly burned. Four hundred families lost everything they possessed. The magazine is still burning, and neighboring reservoirs are in great danger. A general panic prevails.

TRAIN ROBBERY.

American Bandits Hold Up a Mexican Train.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Austin, Feb. 6.—A dispatch from San Luise, Potsi, Mexico, says the first train robbery on the American style ever committed on Mexican soil occurred on the Mexican Central Railway near there. News of the affair has just reached the city. A passenger train was held up by masked men who entered the Pullman sleeper and robbed the passengers of money and valuables and baggage. The train crew were held up with pistols. The bandits were five in number. The leader, and it is believed, all the other robbers, were Americans. They are being pursued by a force of troops, and their capture is almost certain. The robbers will shortly be put to death if caught, as the Mexican law is very severe on such criminals.

STREET CORNER OBSERVATIONS

A distinguished Greensboro connoisseur of horse flesh says that a horse should never be hitched with his head to the wind. Whenever one is so hitched he is sure to turn around so that his head will be away from the wind if it is possible for him to turn. If it is not he will stand in evident torture. This fact must be known to almanac artists, for no one ever saw the picture of a suffering horse with his head to the wind. Those who like to make the life of dumb brutes as pleasant as possible when getting service out of them, should bear this point in mind. It will be of much pleasure to the beasts during the cold windy weather.

* * *

Maybe the desire to get his face away from the wind accounts for the strange action of an old gray horse standing in front of the corner grocery store of Pickard and Pickard yesterday afternoon. He first drew back, and failing to break the rein, slacked up and got up on the sidewalk. The rein was long enough to let him draw the buggy up and make a half circle as he started back down the walk towards his hitching post. His old feet had never before been on a brick pavement and the next move he made was to slip down on his knees. Seeing that he had gotten into a bad place, he stepped off briskly. The buggy straddled the iron awning post, bent it half double, and stopped, the harness snapped, and old gray walked out into the street without bridle or harness, and waited for somebody to come and get him.

* * *

When officer Whittington's blood hound purps get big enough to scert a coon the profession of store and pantry lifting will perhaps fall into innocuous desuetude.

* * *

The yellow race and the black race met yesterday in a unanimous opinion that the situation demanded a horse. Neither, in the language of King Richard, proffered a kingdom for the animal, but the need of him was expressed forcibly as well. The son of Ham was slowly and laboriously pulling down the street a hand cart upon which was loaded a good slice of a week's product of a saw mill. The disciple of Confucius, Chinaman Joe Lee, sat on his laundry steps. By and by the hand cart got opposite the laundry steps, when this conversation was indulged in:

"Need hoss," said Confucius.

"Do dat," replied Ham.

And the hand cart creeped on.

Postmaster Tyre Glenn was looking for Dr. McIver yesterday afternoon for the purpose of initiating him into the order of Buffaloes.

* * *

"Dan arrived yesterday to pay us a visit." This was a sentence in a letter which a gentlemen in Winston got from his mother over in Caswell county. The party referred to was a very valuable dog, which its owner had lost and had given up hope of finding, having searched in vain, with the aid of the police, all the places he thought the dog might be. Dan had merely taken a notion to go over in Caswell where he had hunted, to pay a visit, and he went, walking the distance of fifty or sixty miles as gaily as if going with a picnic party.

This was equal to Mr. John W. King's hound purp which he got in Orange county The animal was brought over to Greensboro on the train but he walked back home.

* * *

Speaking of dogs, folks here will recollect a famous old Greensboro dog named "Dash." Dash was rated up among the best bird finders. One day when Messrs. Clem Wright and Jim Jordan—fact—were out hunting with this dog, he got so far away that they lost sight of him. After waiting some time they started out to look in the direction they thought the dog had gone. Directly they heard Dash barking furiously in another direction. When they approached he trotted off, ran back, barked, and again started off. They rightly concluded that he wanted them to follow him, and they did. After taking them several hundred yards he stopped and came to a point. They advanced and found a large covey of birds Dash had found the birds, and the hunters not coming up, he went back to get them. Dash was a great dog.

Great Wrestlers Meet.

Special to The Telegram.

New York, Feb. 6.—Madison Square Garden will be the scene tonight of the big wrestling match for the championship of the world between Ernest Roeber, the American champion, and Paul Pons, the champion of France.

The match was made in this city, December 17, as a result of a challenge to Pons, issued by Roeber, after the French giant's victory over Piening. The wrestlers are to divide their share of the gross receipts (50 per cent.) 60 per cent. to the winner and 40 per cent. to the loser.

In this contest no holds are barred. This means that for the first time in many years the dreadful strangle hold may be seen in New York. This strangle grip is a trick taught by Evan Lewis who was known as "The Strangler." He learned it years ago at his home in the lumber camps of Michigan and later when he became a professional wrestler used it to good purpose.

RECORD OF DISASTERS

Terrible Things That Have Happened in the Last Century.

Earthquakes, Famine and Floods Have Made Their Mark in Horrible Figures Upon the Pages of History.

The nineteenth century has made an ineffaceable mark upon the world. The march of progress in civilization, in invention and in science has been rapid, and future generations will yield acknowledgment to the fact. The age of romance has not left greater impression upon the literary and military history of the globe than will the century just closed upon the general advancement of the human race. This very advancement has, however, multiplied the dangers which accrue to humanity, since greater civilization has added perils peculiarly its own to those which already existed, says the Philadelphia North American.

The nineteenth century has been particularly unfortunate in disasters which in their very magnitude have appalled the entire human race. Earthquakes have cost the lives of thousands in various countries of the civilized globe, and famine, tidal waves, fires and floods have added horrors to the smaller disasters, while death by shipwreck or railway accident has become a familiar terror.

Some of the most disastrous earthquakes of the century have been the one which befell India in 1819, when 2,000 persons were killed; the one which caused a loss of 6,000 lives in Canton, China, in 1830; that which buried 1,000 persons in Calabria in the year 1835, and the one in 1842, when 5,000 were killed in San Domingo. More frightful still was the earthquake in southern Italy, when 14,000 perished, and the one in which 10,000 residents of Calabria lost their lives in 1857. Two years later, in Quito, there were 5,000 deaths from the same cause; in 1860 there were 7,000 in South America, and in Manila, in 1863, 1,000.

Indeed, the '60s were particularly prolific in deaths by earthquakes, for in '67 1,000 lives were lost in Mitylene, and in 1868, in Arequipa and that district, there was a total of 25,000. The next appalling disaster of the kind was in San Jose, Colombia, in 1875, when no less than 14,000 died. In Icio there were 4,000 deaths in 1881, and in 1883, in Cassamicciola, 9,990 were killed. With 1887 came the well-remembered horror in Charleston, S. C., when only 45 lives were lost, but $5,000,000 worth of property was destroyed. In Japan, in 1891, 5,000 died and 5,000 were injured.

In 1837 came the first great famine of the century, that of India. It was followed by the great famine which devastated Ireland nine years later, while in 1860, '65, '68, '76, '97 and '99, respectively, India was again laid waste by far-reaching famine.

Nor did these vast tragedies finish the list of widespread disaster in the century. In 1871 the great fire almost wiped out the Chicago of that day, and in 1889 the breaking of the Conemaugh dam destroyed the flourishing municipality of Johnstown. In the same year a tidal wave in Japan swept away 50,000 houses and killed 2,419 persons, while the similar disaster in Galveston in September, 1900, is too fresh in the public mind to require mention.

Samoa's Native Woman Surgeon.

A surgeon of the United States navy has discovered a colonial "new" woman, the odd accomplishments of whom are set forth in the report of the surgeon general. This woman dwells at Faga-Toga, a village on a harbor in Samoa, where a United States coaling station is located. She is a doctor. Her medical education consists of such knowledge as she has been able to pick up from a United States dispensatory and from naval surgeons who have visited the harbor. Her practice among the natives is extensive and very successful. She keeps the commoner sort of drugs and compounds her own prescriptions. But the truly amazing features of her success have been realized in surgery. The United States naval surgeon describing these says: "I have seen several fractures she has reduced and treated with very good results. Two amputations that she has performed, one of the arm and one of the forearm, have come under my observation, and the results are very good. She had native assistants, operated without an anaesthetic, and the only instruments she had were a hand saw and a razor."—Harper's Bazar.

A Snake at Church.

During the revival services in the United Brethren church in Sheltenburg, Pa., a snake was discovered crawling over the floor under the seats. One lady noticed something moving over her shoe and in a few moments felt it passing over the other. When she found it was a snake she jumped on the seat, and the church, which was crowded, was thrown into confusion. The ladies stood on the seats while the men tried to capture the reptile, which raced backward and forward through the church in its efforts to escape. After it was captured the services were resumed.—N. Y. Sun.

Chinese Belle's Costumes.

A Chinese belle on special occasions will entirely bedaub her face with white paint, adding rouge to the lips and cheeks in such profusion that she looks more like a painted mask than anything human. Exploring Party in Northern Canada Discovers Englishman Who Was Being Held by Natives.

Prof. J. W. Tyrell, the celebrated explorer of Canadian wilds, has returned from an expedition through the barren lands of northern Canada. He traveled over 5,000 miles on the tour. His expedition, which was sent out by the Canadian government, met with many perils in the long journey to the northwest of Hudson bay.

Prof. Tyrell made the important discovery that the barren lands generally supposed to be treeless prairie were covered in many places with rich northern forests and there were stretches of timber land 200 miles in extent.

In August Prof. J. W. Bell, of the geological survey, who was second in command of the expedition, went on a side tour of 500 miles up one of the branches of the Thelon. There he rescued an Englishman named Charles Bunn, who had been held in captivity by the Eskimos for five years. Prof. Bell was in the lead of the party when they entered a village just before nightfall and was amazed to see a tall, well built man, dressed like an Eskimo, come running up and address him in English. Bunn told a marvelous story. He said that he had gone out from Edmonton in 1896 and had wandered far into the interior, shooting and trapping. He ran short of provisions and applied to an Eskimo family. They took him to their village, where he was compelled to remain, living as one of them. He had several thousand dollars' worth of fur. He joined Bell's party and came out to Edmonton with the explorers.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 6

NOT IN FAVOR OF IMPEACHMENT.

Desiring to see what the sentiment here among the members of the bar is regarding the impeachment proceedings now on at Raleigh, a Telegram reporter this afternoon, called upon every Democratic member of the Greensboro bar that he could find, and questioned each. The gentlemen were not asked regarding either the legal points, or the expediency of the proceedings, but merely whether or not each regarded them with favor. It did not find a single one who favored them. One gentleman did not express an opinion. The question was asked of eleven gentleman. As stated, one did not express an opinion. The other ten were opposed to the proceedings upon one ground or the other. The reporter was unable to see the other gentlemen of the bar, of whom, we believe there are five. Without having seen them, we have no doubt that the most of them feel as the majority, who were seen. No Republican member was asked, because it was sought to ascertain Democratic opinion. We have no doubt that this is an approximate index of the feelings of the bar throughout this section of the State.

We congratulate Representative Whitaker of Guilford, in that he came out squarely against the impeachment proceedings. Our representatives in this section should keep their eyes on the eastern men, who are too prone to let their zeal run away with their judgment. It is not surprising in many instances that this should be so, since the people of that section have suffered much more than we from the effects of bad government. Still there is such a thing as going too far.

The Greensboro push is now especially gratifying. Along with the many private enterprises that are already in course of creation, new ones yet will doubtless soon be under way by reason of the increased efforts of the Industrial and Immigration Association. Keep it up.

The mayor of Charlotte and Dr. J. W. Stagg, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of that town are in a newspaper controversy regarding the mayor's responsibility for the great prevalence of gambling in that city.

Great Work for Women.

News and Observer.

The State Normal and Industrial College is North Carolina's youngest institution for the education of the white race. It is the only institution established by the State for women, and should have its proportionate part of the educational investment of the State. It is now in its ninth year. In these few years it has touched the life of every county in the State. It has matriculated 2,100 students, representing every county, and has graduated with a life-license to teach nearly 200. It has sent into the schools of the State about 1,500 teachers. Young women trained by it have taught in hundreds of country public and private schools; in the four leading orphanages of the State; in six of our leading colleges and seminaries for women; and in the public schools of every community in the State which has voted a local school tax and has a graded school system except one.

Its representatives have taught in South Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, Georgia, Florida, Texas, California, New York, New Jersey and Maryland. In a recent trip to Boston President McIver found ex-students of the college in the seven leading cities en route. Some were stenographers, some trained nurses, some were teaching, and others were pursuing advanced studies in the colleges and universities. All were working.

Canadian Parliament.

Special to The Telegram.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 6.—The Dominion parliament has been summoned to meet today. One of the most important questions to be brought before the session is that for extending the defensive power of Canada. The proposition is to provide for what might almost be called a general training with the rifle on a volunteer basis The men joining the service will be formed into auxiliary companies attached to the militia companies of their respective districts.

Even the religious press is in favor of the policy. The Montreal Witness Says: "Canada has perhaps less reason than any country on earth to fear invasion, but it would do her no harm and would not be terribly costly, if every boy should learn at school how to obey the word of command, to shoot strait with a rifle and how to ride a horse. The first of these acquirements, that of obedience and respect, is perhaps the lesson our rising generation most needs."

Social Club Entertained.

The Social Card Club of seven tables was delightfully entertained by Mrs. J. W. Menifee at her home on Church street yesterday afternoon Miss Maie Small secured the first prize—a beautiful white gauze fan with silver spangles. Mrs. J. H Walsh received the booby, a toy piano. After cards, delicious cake and ices with maraschino cherries were served.

Galloway--Gray.

Cards are out for the marriage of Mr. A. H. Galloway to Miss Mamie Gray, of Winston, on the 12th inst. Mr. Galloway was at one time connected with the Piedmont, now the City National Bank, of this place, and has many friends here.

To the old, as to babies, the even balance of health is more important than anything else in the world. The possible health, in age, is not high and strong; it is only even.

ECZEMA'S

ITCH IS TORTURE.

Eczema is caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing great redness and inflammation; little pustular eruptions form and discharge a thin, sticky fluid, which dries and scales off; sometimes the skin is hard, dry and fissured. Eczema in any form is a tormenting, stubborn disease, and the itching and burning at times are almost unbearable; the acid burning humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire. Salves, washes nor other external applications do any real good, for as long as the poison remains in the blood it will keep the skin irritated.

BAD FORM OF TETTER.

"For three years I had Tetter on my hands, which caused them to swell to twice their natural size. Part of the time the disease was in the form of running sores, very painful, and causing me much discomfort. Four doctors said the Tetter had progressed too far to be cured, and they could do nothing for me. I took only three bottles of S. S. S. and was completely cured. This was fifteen years ago, and I have never since seen any sign of my old trouble."—MRS. L. B. JACKSON, 1414 McGee St., Kansas City, Mo.

S. S. S. neutralizes this acid poison, cools the blood and restores it to a healthy, natural state, and the rough, unhealthy skin becomes soft, smooth and clear.

SSS cures Tetter, Erysipelas, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum and all skin diseases due to a poisoned condition of the blood. Send for our book and write us about your case. Our physicians have made these diseases a life study, and can help you by their advice; we make no charge for this service. All correspondence is conducted in strictest confidence.

HOW TO VALUE A MINE

Expert's Method of Estimating the Worth of "Ore in Sight."

Always an Element of Uncertainty Even Under the Most Advantageous Investigations of Deposits.

With the news that John Hays Hammond's proposal to take charge of the Independence gold mine had been accepted by the London owners came the report that the mine had been "worked out." This statement had been made many times before, and much doubt existed in the minds of interested parties when Mr. Hammond's latest report was received, says the New York Tribune. This document showed that the property which for a long time yielded a 40 per cent. dividend on a large investment, was still rich in ore, and capable of producing large profits. Mr. Hammond said that the "ore in sight" warranted him in guaranteeing a dividend of ten per cent., or $488,000, and that would leave about $500,000 out of the year's deposits to be used toward the further development of the property and locating new ore beds.

The phrase "ore in sight" is one that is well understood by people who are interested in the mining business, but is misunderstood by the average layman. The ore is not "in sight" on the surface, but its existence is established by a series of operations which are in many instances exceedingly difficult, expensive and laborious.

Speaking on this subject, Dr. A. R. Ledoux said: "There is no way to determine the existence of gold ore, its quantity, quality, or anything about it unless one gets on three sides of the deposit, and even then there is an element of uncertainty about it. Ore in sight is what has been found after 'blocking' out a certain section of ground. The 'blocking' is accomplished in various ways in keeping with the nature of the ground. Thus, by sinking a shaft of 20 feet in width 100 feet into the earth and then running a level from this, say 200 feet, to another shaft the same depth and width as the first, and then taking samples of the ore or rock from all parts of this block one would have a good idea of the yielding qualities of that particular block. This block would be 400,000 cubic feet, or about 20,000 tons, and the assays from the four sides, the two shafts, the tunnel and the surface would be the 'gold in sight.' The center of the block, which cannot be reached until actual operations are begun, might yield much more than the assays indicated, and, on the other hand, it might be found worthless or barren rock. In cases where the block of 100x200x20 feet would be deemed insufficient for determining the value of the mine, another block of similar size may be laid out below or beyond the first, and by this series of blocking the value of the mine as a gold producer is estimated. It is a well-known fact that gold is often deposited in 'shoots' that run in oblique and tortuous directions from the surface, and one must be posted on the geology of the country to arrive at a correct estimate of the value of the land that has been blocked out. A shaft, for instance, may run for 100 feet through rich ore and another parallel shaft 200 feet away may not strike any ore until a depth of 100 feet or more has been reached. The next shaft 200 feet further away may have to be sunk still further before the valuable rock is reached, and this would indicate that the shoot runs diagonally from the surface. This is only one of the many phenomena in the matter of gold veins that present themselves to the miner, and no set rule can be followed in order to locate the valuable ore or to determine its extent. But the term 'gold in sight' or 'ore in sight' is usually applied to the block or to the series of blocks which have been examined and assayed on three sides."

In the "Reminiscences" of Miss M. Betham Edwards is the retort of a boy hired to do the dirtier work about the kitchen. Evidently he was not destined to rise. At least, he had no idea of making his to" his religion. One day the farmer's wife, seeing him dawdling over his work, took up a knife and showed him how to clean it well and quickly. WHAT THE PAPERS ARE SAYING ABOUT THE SECURITY LIFE AND ANNUITY COMPANY.

The Telegram has heretofore spoken of the cordiality with which The Security Life and Annuity Company has been received throughout the State. Many of the papers copied The Telegram's announcement of the company without comment. We present below some notices by other papers. Of course we could not get them all, but the following are enough to show the drift of comment:

The Cordele friends of E. Colwell, Jr., will delight to know of his success at Greensboro, N. C. The Greensboro Telegram published in that city devotes several columns to a new life company there, "The Security Life and Annuity," and gives the name of Mr. Colwell as one of the incorporators and organizers, in fact, he is given the credit of being the originator of the plans under which the company will work. The legislature of that State has granted a charter and the company will begin work at once. Mr. Colwell was a resident of Cordele up to a few months ago and as above stated he has many friends here who extend to him congratulations and best wishes.—Cordele (Ga.,) Sentinel.

From the Greensboro Telegram we learn that a Life Insurance Company with ample capital, has been extablished there, the only one in the State. It has been chartered by the Legislature, the incorporators being such well known men as J. Van Lindley, P. H. Hanes, J. W Scott, Lee H. Battle M. L. Shields, P D Gold, Jr., and E Colwell, Jr. The plan of the company is to pay to the beneficiary after the death of the policy holder, so much per month as the policy stipulates.

Mr. P. D. Gold, Jr., is in company with some of the best business men in the State, Mr. Van Lindley, the famous nurseryman, Mr. Scott, president of a Greensboro bank, Mr. Hanes, widely known as the Winston tobacco manufacturer, Mr Battle, cashier of a National Bank in Greensboro, Mr. Shields, member of a wholesale shoe company, Mr. Colwell, an experienced insurance man. Of Mr. Gold, the Greensboro Telegram says:

"Mr. P. D. Gold, Jr., is a young man whose business sagacity is sufficiently well attested by the fact that he is the manager of Bradstreet's agency at Greensboro."

We congratulate Mr. Gold. He is a Wilson boy, and his pluck, perseverance and ability will keep him on the upward course.—Wilson News.

The Security Life and Annuity Company just organized at Greensboro is a step in the right direction. Our people send hundreds of thousands of dollars away from North Carolina each year to swell the capital and build up the cites of the North, money too that never comes back unless we deliver up our best blood in death.

The money of a community is like the blood of the body, withdraw it and business paralysis follows. We should be believers in patronizing home industries, keeping our money at home, and we will never grow wealthy and great, be able to command large amounts of capital for large enterprises until we learn this lesson.

The Greensboro company starts off well. The directors altogether represent more than three million dollars worth of property and are among the solid business men of the State. If you need life insurance help out this enterprise, the first North Carolina life insurance company.—Wilson Times.

We are very glad to learn that the legislature has incorporated a life insurance company to have its office at Greensboro. The names of its incorporators add to our joy and, we doubt not, will insure for the new enterprise the confidence and good will of our people. They are Messrs. J. Van Lindley, P. H. Hanes, J. W. Scott, Lee H. Battle, M. L. Shields, P. D Gold, Jr., E. Colwell, Jr.

The company will, instead of paying so much down on the death of a policyholder, pay the beneficiaries so much a month so long as the conditions of the contract are complied with. The company will begin business at once.

The Greensboro Telegram says:

This is an enterprise that is bound to succeed. There are two companies in Georgia operating on this plan and their success has been phenominal. General John B. Gordon is actively connected with one of them. His company has been in businees but a short time, the other one, at Rome, two or more years —Pilot Mountain News.

The only life insurance company in North Carolina has just been organized in Greensboro. It is the Security Life and Annuity Company, bill to incorporate which passed the legislature today. The incorporators are J. Van Lindley, of Pomona; P. H Hanes, of Winston, and J. W. Scott, Lee H. Battle, M. L. Shields, P. D. Gold, Jr., and E. Colwell, of Greensboro. All of the above are men, which is a guarantee that the new company will succeed.

The Security Life and Annuity Company is organized upon the principle of old line life companies, but will write a form of policy not usually pushed by the latter. Instead of paying the face value of a policy upon the death of the insured. payments will be made in monthly installments. There are a number of successful companies operating along this line. There are two in Georgia, General John B. Gordon being the president of one of them.

For several years Greensboro has led the State in the home fire insurance business, and the organization of the new life company is a matter of pride to business men of the city. The new company was prompted by Mr. E. Colwell, Jr., formerly with the Provident Savings Life Assurance Association. He is a splendidly equipped insurance man.—Special to Charlotte Observer, copied by Webster's Weekly, Danville Free Press, and others.

For several years Greensboro has led the State of North Carolina in the number and strength of home fire insurance companies, and now a life insurance company is to come into the field for a share of the public's business in this tine. For several months a number of gentlemen have been interested in the organization of a strong company to write life insurance, but it was not perfected until Staturday when the company was chartered by the legislature

The new candidate for public favor is known as the Security Life and Annuity Company, of which the following gentlemen are the incorporators: J. Van Lindley, of Pomona; P. H Hanes, of Winston. J. W. Scott, Lee H. Battle, M. L. Shields, P. D. Gold, Jr., and E. Colwell, Jr., of Greensboro. All of the above are well known and successful business men, which is a guarantee of the success of the new enterprise. The stockholders of the company will meet within a few days and elect officers, when the work of writing insurance will begin.

The Security Life and Annuity Company is organized along the plan of the old line companies, though it will write a form of policy not usually pushed by them. Annuity policies will be written, and instead of paying the face of the policy upon the death of the insured, payments will be made in monthly installments. Many successful annuity companies are in operation.

The organization of this company in Greensboro is a matter of pride, especially since it is the first life insurance company to be organized in the State.—Greensboro Patriot.

The Security Life and Annuity Insurance Company, the charter of which was granted by the Legislature Saturday, was organized that afternoon at Greensboro, and began business today. —Raleigh Corresponderce of Newbern Journal.

It was with pleasure that The Post published in its report of the legislative proceedings, the granting of a charter for a North Carolina Life Insurance Company. It is with more pleasure that such a company, by virtue of said charter, has been promptly organized, with gentlemen at the head of it whose character and well-established business reputations are known throughout the State. The company just organized is The Security Life and Annuity Company of Greensboro. We unite heartily with our contemporary The Telegram, in the following:

"It is with satisfaction that we announce the formation of a genuine North Carolina Life Insurance Company at Greensboro. This city has taken primacy in the matter of home fire insurance long ago, and it now comes up with the first life insurance company of the State. We heartily recommend it to the people of the State, and assure them that in giving the company a part of the million and a half of money that each year goes out of the State for old line insurance, they will be getting as good protection as can be had and at the same time be helping to build up the State. It has been one of the hopes of the people of the South that one day they should be able to do their own insurance business. The time when this hope shall be realized is fast drawing nigh, or at least the time when much of the business will be done at home. It is not to be supposed that the South, fast developing into one of the richest sections of the Union, would long be content to let this enormous part of the business of the State be done wholly by outside companies. Success to the Security Life and Annuity Company."—Raleigh Post.

A life insurance company has been formed in North Carolina, composed of one Winston citizen and six from Greensboro. It is the only life insurance company in the State and will have headquarters at Greensboro. The organizers are P. H. Hanes, of this city, and J. Van Lindley, J. W. Scott, Lee H. Battle, M. L. Shields, P. D. Gold, Jr., and E. Colwell, Jr., of Greensboro.

The bill to incorporate the Security Life and Annuity Company has just passed the Legislature. It will be based upon the principle of old line insurance and will, instead of paying so much at the death of a policy holder, will pay so much per month as long as the conditions of the contract are complied with. The company will begin business at once.

The Greensboro members of the company are all well known in business circles and the majority of them men of wealth. The Greensboro Telegram says: "Mr. P. H. Hanes, of Winston, is the well known tobacco manufacturer of the firm of P. H Hanes & Company, who have just sold their business of more than a million dollars."

They add that in giving the company a part of the million and a half of money that each year goes out of the State for old line insurance they will be getting as good protection as can be had and at the same time be helping to build up the State.

Since writing the above, we have learned that there will be one or two of Winston's best citizens connected with the company. The names and further particulars will be given later. —Winston Journal.

The only life insurance company in North Carolina has just been organized in Greensboro. It is the Security Life and Annuity Company, a bill to incorporate which passed the Legislature Saturday. The incorporators are J. Van Lindley, of Pomona, P. H. Hanes, of Winston, and J. W. Scott, Lee H. Battle, M. L. Shields, P. D. Gold, Jr., and E. Colwell, of Greensboro. Mr. Hanes will be vice-president of the company.—Winston Sentinel.

The Security Life and Annuity Company of Greensboro has been organized. The Legislature granted a charter for this company to do business as a life insurance company along lines of the old line companies. This is an organization that needs more than a mere notice or thought at the hands of the people of North Carolina. It should be upheld and patronized by every man in the State who wishes to see his State expand and prosper. The men who are back of this new enterprise have made a success of whatever else they have undertaken and with the support of the insuring public The Security Life will succeed. The State sends out millions of dollars each year for insurance and while this company will not get all or a great part of it, it is a step in the right direction and will keep thousands of dollars at home to develop home cities. Success to this new company and may it be an honor to the State and a power for good.—Concord Tribune.

"I notice that a California soldier claims that he has the great seal of China in his possession." "Dear me; is it a seal? I thought it was a dragon."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Sympathetic Friend—"Why haven't you exhibited anything this year?" Artist—"I refused all their offers—I simply can't sell myself to anyone." Friend—"Hum! Something like your pictures!"—Journal Amusant.

"Were you satisfied with that cornetist I sent you?" "Well, as you said," replied the orchestra leader, "he certainly does play the cornet to beat the band." "All right, eh?" "No. He couldn't keep time."—Philadelphia Press.

First Sweet Young Thing—"What on earth are you going to marry Fred for, dear? He has no money; he isn't good-looking; he can't talk or dance, or drive or bike, and he's never done anything—" Second Sweet Young Thing—"Yes, I know, dear; but he is so fond of dear Fido, and the dear dog is just as fond of him."—Ally Sloper.

In the dance I trod upon my beloved's toes. "Stupid!" she hissed. "Alas!" quoth I, profoundly shocked at this display of temper. "Are then my idol's feet of clay?" "Well, they're not cast iron, I tell you those!" exclaimed the beautiful girl, with heat in her voice. I tried to laugh, but there was a chill at my heart.—Detroit Journal.

"That confounded life insurance company refused my application for a policy," said Hunker. "Why, I should think you were a fine risk," replied Spatts. "What made them refuse your application?" "Well, they found out in some way that I am in the habit of eating mushrooms that I gather myself."—Detroit Free Press.

YOUNG BUT PLUCKY RIDER.

A Courageous Lad Who Follows the Hounds with the Enthusiasm of a Veteran.

In a hunting community not far from this city there is a son of one of the members who seems destined to throw a famous leg over the pigskin. That is, it will be famous if the recklessness of its owner permits it to come to maturity. His courage is of the first water, his nerve without limit, but he is only 11, and his discretion leaves something to be desired. Once the ardor of the chase is on him, his father says, he will put his "gee" at anything in his path, even if it should happen to be a church. He has until recently ridden to hounds on his pony, but so clever was his work that the attention of the master of fox hounds was attracted and he gave the boy recently a leg upon one of his own hunters. The horse was rangey, half-bred, 17½ hands high and with a temper of his own, says the New York Tribune.

After they were in the field the master of fox hounds remembered the hunter's peculiarities of temper, and his heart misgave him. The boy was excited and happy, but he looked a bit lonely and forlorn seated on the huge horse, and the master of fox hounds decided to ride close at hand and to keep a careful eye on him. After the hounds found all seemed to go well, however, and the master of fox hounds forgot his good intentions as his sporting blood rose. Suddenly he remembered and looked around just in time to see the boy put his mount at a five-barred gate. The horse refused, and up his neck the youngster slid. He grabbed wildly, and his tiny arms went round the horse's neck. So close was the horse that his head was over the gate he had refused, and as the boy slid off he struck the top bar. To this he hung, and as the frightened master of fox hounds rode up he held up his hand. "Please, Mr. Blank, does that count as a fall?" he demanded. "I didn't touch ground." "Why, no, Reggie," said the master of fox hounds, as he disguised a laugh in a cough, "I don't think that ought to count as a fall. Are you hurt?" "Not a bit," was the cheerful response, "and now, if you'll lead him up I'll mount from here and then I won't have to touch ground." He did, and was in at the death, and anything he wants in that club now is his, from the best hunter in its stables to the mastership of the hounds when he grows up.

A period of 44 years is sufficient to determine the success or failure of a business. The W. W. KIMBALL COMPANY was established in 1856. Since that time they have manufactured and sold about sixty-six thousand pianos and about two hundred and twenty thousand organs. The factories have been enlarged from time to time until they are now twice the size of any piano and organ factory in the world. Kimball Pianos and Organs are the very highest possible standard. They are celebrated throughout the musical world for their wonderful depth, brilliancy and purity of tone, their great strength of construction and durability—making them the special favorites with all the great musicians and musical instructors throughout the country as seen by the hundreds of endorsements and many gold medals awarded in competition with other makes. Kimball Pianos and Organs are sold direct from their large factories at one small factory profit. They are fully guaranteed. We shall be glad to hear from any one desiring sstrictly first-class instrument.
